Basic Package

The general framework is focused on project management with an eye on the completion of your project deliverables. There will be six step process that we will perform prior to the engagement. Those steps are as follows:

- 1) We will do some basic auditing of the project through the identification of the current status of the deliverables to date.
- 2) We will be introduced to the development team and interview each developer to understand their role on the team.
- 3) We will work with the tools and techniques project role to understand how the software is being built and how the team is performing.
- 4) We will identify the reporting/communication mechanisms and metrics.
- 5) We will review the project charter, product objectives, and project scope. (If none exists we will write one and verify it with the team and the sponsor.)
- 6) We will use customer data and customer interviews to verify there is no misunderstanding of requirements.

Once these steps are performed the project manager can better guide the team to move toward their goals. The output of this effort will be a report documenting the findings and the suggested corrective actions if any exist. Then ongoing performance of project management will be held to the deliverables as advised by the PMI (Project Management Institute) for the Communications Management Knowledge Area.

Full Risk Package

This package will deliver the steps as outlined in the Basic Package, listed above, but also will add the knowledge area of risk management.
